The Reporter's Handbook Steve Weinberg, 1996 Reporters editors and journalists will find this third edition of The Reporter's Handbook an even more impressive resource than prior editions This essential tool for serious journalists identifies hundreds of documents and human sources in both private and government sectors It provides step by step methods for tracking paper trails people trails and computer trails The book also includes coverage of library research computer assisted reporting case studies anecdotes and IRE contest winning pieces This new edition features chapters on the environment transportation housing financial institutions international investigation utilities and non profit organizations Under the sponsorship of Investigative Reporters and Editors Inc Steven Weinberg has revised and polished this journalism classic into a must have reference guide for the classroom and the newsroom Introduction to Computer-assisted Reporting Matthew Reavy, 2001 While demystifying the use of the computer as a tool in reporting methods Introduction to Computer Assisted Reporting maintains that a computer is only supplemental to the traditional values of good journalism Journalism Jo A. Cates, 2004-05-30 Journalism A Guide to the Reference Literature is a critically annotated bibliographic guide to print and electronic sources in print and broadcast journalism The first edition was published in 1990 the second in 1997 It has been described as one of the critical reference sources in journalism today and it is a key bibliographic guide to the literature Choice magazine called it a benchmark publication for which there are no comparable sources The format is similar to the second edition What makes this edition significantly different is the separation of Commercial Databases and Internet Resources Commercial Databases includes standard fee based resources The new chapter on Internet sources features Web based resources not included in the commercial databases chapter as well as portals other online files listservs newsgroups and Web logs blogs All chapters have been revised and there are significant revisions in Directories Yearbooks and Collections Miscellaneous Sources Core Periodicals Societies and Associations and Research Centers and Archives The second edition has 789 entries The third edition contains almost 1 000 entries James Carey of Columbia University who provided the foreword for the first two editions has updated his foreword for this edition Successful Strategies for Computer-assisted Reporting Bruce Garrison, 2013-10-18 Computers have changed the landscape of both gathering and disseminating information throughout the world As journalists move quickly toward the 21st century and perhaps a new era of electronic journalism they need resources to understand the newest and most successful computer based news reporting strategies This book is designed to show both professional journalists and students which of the newest personal computing tools are being used by the nation s leading news organizations and top individual journalists It describes how these resources are being used on a daily basis and for special projects The book assumes a minimal familiarity with computers but no advanced knowledge of computer operation Partners for Preservation Jeanne Kramer-Smyth,2019-01-23 Who could be partners to archivists working in digital preservation This book features chapters from international contributors from diverse backgrounds and professions discussing their challenges with and victories over digital problems that share common issues with those facing digital preservationists The only certainty about technology is that it will change The speed of that change and the ever increasing diversity of digital formats tools and platforms will present stark challenges to the long term preservation of digital records Archivists are frequently challenged by the technical expertise subject matter knowledge time and resource requirements needed to solve the broad set of challenges sure to be faced by the archival profession Partners for Preservation advocates the need for archivists to recruit partners and learn lessons from across diverse professions to work more effectively within the digital landscape Includes discussion of the internet of things digital architecture research data and collaboration open source programming privacy memory and transparency inheritance of digital media This book will be useful reading for professional archivists and others responsible for digital preservation students of archival studies and digital preservation Conversations on Convergence Stephen Quinn,2006 Convergence is a major topic of discussion at professional and academic journalism conferences and seminars around the world This book presents the insights of major players and academics in the field of convergence Here is your chance to read what the experts think about one of the most significant changes that journalism faces It should be on the desk of all managers keen to know where the future will take us and on the reading list of every student of journalism and media Computing the News Sylvain Parasié,2022-10-11 Faced with a full blown crisis a growing number of journalists are engaging in seemingly unjournalistic practices such as creating and maintaining databases handling algorithms or designing online applications Data journalists claim that these approaches help the profession demonstrate greater objectivity and fulfill its democratic mission In their view computational methods enable journalists to better inform their readers more closely monitor those in power and offer deeper analysis In Computing the News Sylvain Parasié examines how data journalists and news organizations have navigated the tensions between traditional journalistic values and new technologies He traces the history of journalistic hopes for computing technology and contextualizes the surge of data journalism in the twenty first century By importing computational techniques and ways of knowing new to journalism news organizations have come to depend on a broader array of human and nonhuman actors Parasié draws on extensive fieldwork in the United States and France including interviews with journalists and data scientists as well as a behind the scenes look at several acclaimed projects in both countries Ultimately he argues fulfilling the promise of data journalism requires the renewal of journalistic standards and ethics Offering an in depth analysis of how computing has become part of the daily practices of journalists this book proposes ways for journalism to evolve in order to serve democratic societies

Al-Raida ,2003 News Media Libraries Barbara P. Semonche,1993-08-18 Semonche provides a wealth of information on news libraries and the managerial concerns of news librarians The volume is organized in several broad sections devoted to the history and mission of news libraries managerial issues and approaches news libraries and computer assisted journalism special concerns of news libraries and profiles of particular types of news libraries Chapters within each section address more particular topics and provide valuable guidance on how to manage libraries and implement new technology The volume concludes with a more extensive glossary and an annotated bibliography of books and articles published between 1985 and 1993 While theoretical matters are considered this reference is largely a ready source of practical knowledge for all types of news librarians

Computer-assisted Reporting Fred Vallance-Jones,David McKie,2009 a nuts and bolts guide to finding the relevant data sources using software such as spreadsheets database managers and mapping programs to crunch the numbers and transform research results into a compelling story Real life examples of computer assisted reporting CAR by leading Canadian and American journalists show readers how to make the most of CAR skills on the job Computer assisted reporting is written specifically for journalism students and working reporters who want to upgrade their skills Straightforward easy to follow and amply illustrated with screen shots it focuses on the skills tools and applications that have the most practical value in the newsroom
