Below-ground Interactions in Tropical Agroecosystems Meine van Noordwijk, Georg Cadisch, C. K. Ong, 2004 Below ground interactions are often seen as the dark side of agroecosystems especially when more than one crop is grown on the same piece of land at the same time this book aims to review the amount of light the past decade of research has shed on this topic It also aims to review how far we have come in unravelling the positive and negative aspects of these interactions and how in dialogue with farmers we can use the generic principles that are now emerging to look for site specific solutions

Ecology David T. Krohne, 2018 Ecology Evolution Application Integration Second Edition takes a unique evolutionary approach to ecology focusing on the concepts of the discipline and the human impact on ecosystems Helping students develop their scientific reasoning skills this text teaches them not only what we know about the field but how we know it

Agrobiodiversity Karl S. Zimmerer, Stef De Haan, 2023-10-31 Experts discuss the challenges faced in agrobiodiversity and conservation integrating disciplines that range from plant and biological sciences to economics and political science Wide ranging environmental phenomena including climate change extreme weather events and soil and water availability combine with such socioeconomic factors as food policies dietary preferences and market forces to affect agriculture and food production systems on local national and global scales The increasing simplification of food systems the continuing decline of plant species and the ongoing spread of pests and disease threaten biodiversity in agriculture as well as the sustainability of food resources Complicating the situation further the multiple systems involved cultural economic environmental institutional and technological are driven by human decision making which is inevitably informed by diverse knowledge systems The interactions and linkages that emerge necessitate an integrated assessment if we are to make progress toward sustainable agriculture and food systems This volume in the Str ngmann Forum Reports series offers insights into the challenges faced in agrobiodiversity and sustainability and proposes an integrative framework to guide future research scholarship policy and practice The contributors offer perspectives from a range of disciplines including plant and biological sciences food systems and nutrition ecology economics plant and animal breeding anthropology political science geography law and sociology Topics covered include evolutionary ecology food and human health the governance of agrobiodiversity and the interactions between agrobiodiversity and climate and demographic change Science Interactions Robert W.
