Agric Paper 2014:

Agricultural Land Use and Natural Gas Extraction Conflicts Madeline Taylor, Tina Hunter, 2018-11-02 Onshore unconventional gas operations in most jurisdictions operate on the legal principle that all activities during exploration and extraction are temporary in nature The concept that the onshore unconventional gas industry has a temporary effect on the land on which it operates creates a regulatory paradox On one hand unconventional gas activities create energy security national wealth and a burgeoning export industry On the other agricultural land and agriculturalists may be significantly disadvantaged by unconventional gas activities potentially producing permanent damage to non renewable fertile soils and spoiling the underground water tables Thus threatening future food security and food sovereignty This book explores the socio regulatory dimensions of coexistence between agricultural and onshore unconventional gas land uses in the jurisdictions with the highest concentration of proven unconventional gas reserves Australia Canada the USA the UK France Poland and China In exploring the differing regulatory standpoints of unconventional gas land uses on productive farming land in the chosen jurisdictions this book provides an original three part categorisation of regulatory approaches addressing the coexistence of agricultural land and unconventional gas namely adaptive management precautionary and finally statism It offers a timely and topical approach to socio legal natural resource governance theory based on the participation transparency and empowerment for agricultural landholders examining how differing frameworks such as the collective bargaining framework can create equitable and sustainable contractual arrangements with unconventional gas companies

OECD Food and Agricultural Reviews Innovation, Agricultural Productivity and Sustainability in Sweden

OECD, 2018-06-08 Agricultural innovation in Sweden has sought to improve the competitiveness and sustainability of the agri food sector by ensuring a high level of environmental and animal welfare standards while raising the productivity and financial viability of farms 2017 The State of Food and Agriculture Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-04-04 One of the greatest challenges today is to end hunger and poverty while making agriculture and food systems sustainable The challenge is daunting because of continued population growth profound changes in food demand and the threat of mass migration of rural youth in search of a better life This report presents strategies that can leverage the potential of food systems to become the engine of inclusive economic development and rural prosperity in low income countries It analyses the structural and rural transformations now under way and examines the opportunities and challenges they present to millions of small scale food producers It shows how an agroterritorial planning approach focused on connecting cities and towns and their surrounding rural areas combined with agro industrial and infrastructure development can generate income opportunities throughout the food sector and underpin sustainable and inclusive rural transformation

Delving deeper into the agricultural transformation and youth employment nexus Adesugba, Margaret Abiodun, Mavrotas, George, 2016-04-19 Youth employment is not an entirely new topic for research and policy Recent estimates from the International Labour Organisation ILO 2013a suggest that high and rising unemployment rates among youth remain a key challenge to global development especially in the developing world This is particularly important in sub Saharan Africa where about 85 percent of youth defined by the ILO as all those between the ages of 15 and 24 years are poor 70 percent live in rural areas where agriculture is the main source for their income and subsistence and 11 million youth are expected to enter the labor market every year for the next decade World Bank 2014 These characteristics of youth in sub Saharan Africa justify the centrality of the nexus between youth employment and agriculture in formulating development policy on the continent At the same time youth unemployment is currently one of the issues receiving attention at the top of the global development agenda

Push Button Agriculture K. R. Krishna,2017-03-16 This book covers three main types of agricultural systems the use of robotics drones unmanned aerial vehicles and satellite guided precision farming methods Some of these are well refined and are currently in use while others are in need of refinement and are yet to become popular The book provides a valuable source of information on this developing field for those involved with agriculture and farming and agricultural engineering The book is also applicable as a textbook for students and a reference for faculty

Creating Sustainable Bioeconomies Ivar Virgin,E. Jane Morris,2016-08-25 The growing global demand for food feed and bio based renewable material is changing the conditions for agricultural production worldwide At the same time revolutionary achievements in the field of biosciences are contributing to a transition whereby bio based alternatives for energy and materials are becoming more competitive Creating Sustainable Bioeconomies explores the prospects for biosciences and how its innovation has the potential to help countries in the North Europe and the South Africa to move towards resource efficient agriculture and sustainable bioeconomies Throughout the book the situations of Europe and Sub Saharan Africa will be compared and contrasted and opportunities for mutual learning and collaboration are explored The chapters have been written by high profile authors and deal with a wide range of issues affecting the development of bioeconomies on both continents This book compares and contrasts the situations of these two regions as they endeavour to develop knowledge based bioeconomies This volume is suitable for those who are interested in ecological economics development economics and environmental economics It also provides action plans assisting policy makers in both areas to support the transition to knowledge based and sustainable bioeconomies

The Potato Crop Hugo Campos,Oscar Ortiz,2019-12-03 This book is open access under a CC BY 4 0 license This book provides a fresh updated and science based perspective on the current status and prospects of the diverse array of topics related to the potato and was written by distinguished scientists with hands on global experience in research aspects related to potato The potato is the third most important global food crop in terms of consumption Being the only vegetatively propagated species among the world s main five staple crops creates both issues and opportunities for the potato on the one hand this constrains the speed of its geographic expansion and its options for international commercialization and distribution when compared with commodity crops such as maize wheat or rice On the other it provides an effective insulation against speculation and unforeseen spikes in commodity prices since the potato does not represent a good traded on global markets These two factors highlight the underappreciated and underrated role of the potato as a dependable nutrition security crop one that can mitigate turmoil in world food supply and demand and political instability in some developing countries Increasingly the global role of the potato has expanded from a profitable crop in developing countries to a crop providing income and nutrition security in developing ones This book will appeal to academics and students of crop sciences but also policy makers and other stakeholders involved in the potato and its contribution to humankind s food security

2014-2015 Global Food Policy Report International Food Policy Research Institute (IFPRI),2015-03-18 This 2014 2015 Global Food Policy Report is the fourth in an annual series that provides a comprehensive overview of major food policy developments and events In this report distinguished researchers policymakers and practitioners review what happened in food policy in 2014 at the global regional and national levels and supported by the latest knowledge and research explain why This year s report is the first to also look forward a year offering analysis of the potential opportunities and challenges that we will face in achieving food and nutrition security in 2015

Vulnerability of farmer's livelihood to climate variability induced hazards in Siraro District, West Arsi Zone, Oromia, Regional State, Ethiopia

Jarso Wakeyo Utala,2019-05-08 Master s Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Agrarian Studies grade Very Good course Population and Socioeconomic Development Planning language English abstract Most previous studies on vulnerability of smallholder farmer s livelihood to climatic hazards had focused on large scale global regional or national levels In addition they gave more focuses to assessment of impacts of climatic hazards to farmers than assessment of farmer s vulnerability to climatic hazards Thus this study was designed to bridge this gap by assessing vulnerability of farmer s livelihood at household level measured as perceived sensitivity and lack of adaptive capacity to climatic hazards and by exploring sets of socioeconomic indicators that significantly determine vulnerability of farmers livelihoods Cross sectional data was collected through household survey from 379 randomly selected respondents which were also complemented with qualitative assessments Principal component analysis was used to identify major socioeconomic indicators that contribute to vulnerability of farmer s livelihood using orthogonal axis rotation in SPSS version 20 Binary logit model was used to identify principal socioeconomic indicators that significantly influence sensitivity and adaptive capacity of livelihoods of sampled farmers The findings revealed that households that are heterogeneous in location of residence sources of income ownership to animals have significant influence on perceived sensitivity of farmers to climatic hazards However socioeconomic indicators such as age gender family size have insignificant influence on sensitivity of farmer s livelihood to climatic hazards Gender marital status educational status of household head coping mechanisms like grain cash saving NRM practices has significant influence on perceived adaptive capacity of farmers Yet access to social interconnectedness such as idir or iqub family relatives and cost of drinking water has insignificant influence on perceived adaptive capacity of farmers Currently

59% 38% and 3% of sampled farmers have overall vulnerability status of low moderate and high respectively The overall conclusion is that differences in status of vulnerability of their livelihoods are attributed to differences in their present socioeconomic attributes Community should strengthen existing hazard coping mechanisms whilst GOs and NGOs should support farmers in diversification of income sources and restocking of animals Active community engagement in planning and execution of disaster risk reduction strategies and practices is also indispensable The State of Food and Agriculture 2017 Food and Agriculture Organization,2017-11-10 One of the greatest challenges today is to end hunger and poverty while making agriculture and food systems sustainable The challenge is daunting because of continued population growth profound changes in food demand and the threat of mass migration of rural youth in search of a better life This report presents strategies that can leverage the potential of food systems to become the engine of inclusive economic development and rural prosperity in low income countries It analyses the structural and rural transformations now under way and examines the opportunities and challenges they present to millions of small scale food producers It shows how an agroterritorial planning approach focused on connecting cities and towns and their surrounding rural areas combined with agro industrial and infrastructure development can generate income opportunities throughout the food sector and underpin sustainable and inclusive rural transformation
