

Congratulations upon your selection of this CASIO watch.

Applications

It has built-in sensors of this watch measure direction, barometric pressure, temperature and altitude. Measured values are then shown on the display. Such features make this watch useful when hiking, mountain climbing, or when engaging in other such outdoor activities.

Warning!

- The measurement functions built into this watch are not intended for taking measurements that require professional or industrial precision. Values produced by this watch should be considered as approximate representations only.
- When engaging in mountain climbing or other activities in which losing your way can create a dangerous or life-threatening situation, always use a second compass to confirm direction readings.
- Note that CASIO COMPUTER CO., LTD. assumes no responsibility for any damage or loss suffered by you or any third party arising through the use of this product or its malfunction.

About This Manual

- Button operations are indicated using the letters shown in the illustration.
- Note that the product illustrations in this manual are intended for reference only, and so the actual product may appear somewhat different than depicted by an illustration.

Things to check before using the watch

1. Check the Battery power level.

2. Check the Home City and the daylight saving time (DST) settings.

Use the procedure under "To configure Home City settings" to configure your Home City and daylight saving time settings.

Important!

Proper time calibration signal reception, and World Time Mode and Sunrise/Sunset Mode data depend on correct Home City, time, and date settings in the Timekeeping Mode. Make sure you configure these settings correctly.

3. Set the current time.

- To set the time using a time calibration signal, see "To get ready for a receive operation".
- To set the time manually, see "Configuring Current Time and Date Settings Manually".

If the watch is now ready for use.

For details about the watch's radio controlled timekeeping feature, see "Radio Controlled Atomic Timekeeping".

Charging the Watch

The face of the watch is a solar cell that generates power from light. The generated power charges a built-in rechargeable battery, which powers watch operations. The watch charges whenever it is exposed to light.

Charging Guide

Whenever you are not wearing the watch, leave it in a location where it is exposed to light.

- Best charging performance is achieved by exposing the watch to the strongest light available.

When wearing the watch, make sure that its face is not blocked from light by the sleeves of your clothing.

- The watch may enter a sleep state if its face is blocked by your sleeves even only partially.

Warning!

Leaving the watch in bright light for charging can cause it to become quite hot.

- Take care when handling the watch to avoid burn injury. The watch can become particularly hot when exposed to the following conditions for long periods.

- On the dashboard of a car parked in direct sunlight
- Too close to an incandescent lamp
- Under direct sunlight

Important!

Allowing the watch to become very hot can cause its liquid crystal display to black out. The appearance of the LCD should become normal again when the watch returns to a lower temperature.

- Switch the watch's Power Saving Function and sleep it in an area normally exposed to bright light when wearing it for long periods. This helps to ensure that power does not run down.
- Storing the watch for long periods in an area where there is no light or wearing it in such a way that it is blocked from exposure to light can cause power to run down. Expose the watch to bright light whenever possible.

Power Levels

You can get an idea of the watch's power level by observing the battery power indicator on the display.

Level	Battery Power Indicator	Function Status
5 (H)		All functions enabled
4 (M)		All functions enabled
3 (L)		Auto and manual reviews, illumination, beeper, and sensor operation disabled
2 (LL)		Except for illumination and the C (Energy) indicator, all functions and display indicators disabled
1 (LLL)		All functions disabled

- The flashing LOW indicator at Level 3 (L) tells you that battery power is very low, and that exposure to bright light for charging is required as soon as possible.
- At Level 5, all functions are disabled and settings return to their initial factory defaults. Once the battery reaches Level 2 (M), after falling to Level 5, reconfigures the current time, date, and other settings.
- Display indicators respond as soon as the battery is charged from Level 5 to Level 3 (M).
- Leaving the watch exposed to direct sunlight or some other very strong light source can cause the battery power indicator to show a reading temporarily that is higher than the actual battery level. The correct battery level should be indicated after a few minutes.
- All data stored in memory is deleted, and the current time and all other settings return to their initial factory defaults whenever battery power drops to Level 5 and when you have the battery replaced.

Power Recovery Mode

- Performing multiple sensor, illumination, or beeper operations during a short period may cause all of the battery power indicators (H, M, and L) to start flashing on the display. This indicates that the watch is in the power recovery mode. Illumination, sensor, disturbance, timer alarm, hourly time signal, and sensor operations will be disabled until battery power recovers.
- Battery power will recover in about 15 minutes. At this time, the battery power indicators (H, M, L) will stop flashing. This indicates that the functions listed above are enabled again.
- If all of the battery power indicators (H, M, L) are flashing and the C (charged) indicator also is flashing, it means the battery level is very low. Expose the watch to bright light as soon as possible.
- Even if battery power is at Level 1 (LLL) or Level 2 (LL), the Digital Compass Mode, Barometer Mode, Thermometer Mode, or Altimeter Mode sensor may be disabled if there is not enough voltage available to power it sufficiently. This is indicated when all of the battery power indicators (H, M, L) are flashing.
- Frequent flashing of all of the battery power indicators (H, M, L) probably means that remaining battery power is low. Leave the watch in bright light to allow it to charge.

Charging Times

Exposure Level (Brightness)	Daily Operation ¹⁾	Level Change ²⁾
		Level 5	Level 4	Level 3	Level 2	Level 1
Outdoor sunlight (50,000 lux)	5 min.	2 hours	1.5 hours	1.5 hours	3 hours
Sunlight through a window (10,000 lux)	20 min.	5 hours	5.5 hours	5.5 hours	15 hours
Daylight through a window (in a cloudy day) (5,000 lux)	40 min.	8 hours	7.5 hours	7.5 hours	30 hours
Indoor fluorescent lighting (200 lux)	8 hours	20 hours	18 hours	18 hours	60 hours

¹⁾ Approximate amount of exposure time required each day to generate enough power for normal daily operation.

²⁾ Approximate amount of exposure time (in hours) required to take power from one level to the next.

The above exposure times are for reference only. Actual exposure times depend on lighting conditions.

For details about the operating time and daily operating conditions, see the "Power Supply" section of the Specifications.

Power Saving

When turned on, Power Saving enters a sleep state automatically whenever the watch is left for a certain period in an area where it is dark. The table below shows how watch functions are affected by Power Saving.

- There actually are two sleep state levels: "Display sleep" and "Function sleep".

Elapsed Time in Dark	Display	Operation
60 to 70 minutes (display sleep)	Blank, with PS flashing	Display is off, but all functions are enabled
4 or 7 days (function sleep)	Blank, with PS not flashing	All functions are disabled, but timekeeping is maintained

- The watch will not enter a sleep state between 6:00 AM and 9:59 PM. If the watch is already in a sleep state when 6:00 AM arrives, however, it will remain in the sleep state.
- The watch will not enter a sleep state while it is in the Stopwatch Mode or Countdown Timer Mode.

To recover from the sleep state

Move the watch to a well lit area, press any button, or angle the watch towards your face for reading.

To turn Power Saving on and off

- In the Timekeeping Mode, hold down (E) until the currently selected city code starts to flash. This is the city code setting screen.
- Press (D) to toggle Power Saving on (On) and off (OFF).
- Press (E) twice to exit the setting screen.
- The Power Saving on indicator (PS) is on the display in all modes while Power Saving is turned on.
