Genesis and Nemesis of the First Dutch Colonial Empire in Asia and South Africa, 1596-1811 Gerrit Knaap, 2022-12-28
Based upon a sweeping command of Dutch East India Company VOC primary sources Knaap's manuscript offers a thought provoking thematic examination and chronological survey of the Dutch Republic's overseas and colonial expansion in Asia and South Africa mainly through the VOC and its successors the Batavian Republic the Kingdom of Holland and Franco Dutch Java over a period of more than two centuries 1596-1811. It elucidates and deals with several conceptual and theoretical issues that are intrinsically important and germane to a polity's definition of and how it chooses to execute the process of expansion overseas in the early modern period. One of this work's major arguments and contributions is its advocacy that the Dutch VOC's expansion in Asia was an imperial project and must be seen as an act of empire or at the very minimum the attempt to construct one via the innovative utilization of a highly organized and dynamic commercial institution with significant political and diplomatic power and naval and military resources.

Earthwork Castles of Gwent and Eryngy AD 1050-1250 Neil Phillips, 2006. The aims of this work are to provide as complete a list as possible of all the timber motte and bailey castles built in the counties of Gwent and Eryngy Wales between AD 1050 and 1250. The list not only records number and place but also size, shape, type, date of construction and date of disuse. It is also intended where possible to assign building and subsequent ownership to as many of the castles as possible. Using the ensuing combined database it becomes possible to plot construction development of the timber and earthwork castle across the chosen area. The principal objectives are: To build as complete a database as possible of the motte and bailey timber castles of the chosen areas of the Welsh March that can be assigned to the period of 1050-1250; To survey the castles and try to provide a classification system based on size and shape using medieval standard measurement; To identify where possible owners or builders of each castle; To recognise any patterns that may be identified, i.e. did certain lords build or favour specific castle types? If so, can a lord's progress be charted through castle type spread or alternatively can castle chronology be dated by historical records; To examine the concept of a rolling frontier as the motivation behind motte and bailey timber castles; Research the spacing of sites in relation to earlier land use, topography or resources by study of records, fieldwork and aerial photographs; To examine the instances of multiple castle construction within close proximity. Due to the quantity of material that the research generated it was decided to include a separate data DVD. The volume contains the introduction to the study followed by a social and historical background to the area and period. Chapter 3 follows with a discussion of castle definitions and introduction to the various types of earthwork and timber castles that can be found. The chapter also discusses the idea of pre-conquest castle in Britain and Normandy. In chapter 4 an assessment is made of present classification systems used to record castles and introduces an alternative method as employed by this study. Chapter 5 introduces the methodology and research strategies employed in this study. Chapter 6 contains the results of the statistical work undertaken on the findings of the study and chapter 7 presents distribution maps of the sites researched. Chapter 8 discusses the study in relation to the original aims and objectives and the results of the statistical analysis and distribution maps. The study is concluded in chapter 9. A gazetteer is included containing an in-depth coverage of all the castles included in the study. The CD contains plates, topographical surveys
