Labor, Crafts, and Commerce in Ancient Israel (Moses Aberbach, 1994) The purpose of this work is to provide a scholarly but also readable account of the economic activities of the Jews as well as their attitudes to labour in general during the Biblical and Talmudic periods. As far as possible, the entire source material scattered as it is in the Bible, the Apocrypha, the Talmud, and Midrash has been utilised to present a comprehensive picture of this important but relatively neglected subject. The book comprises chapters in the occupational structure of the Talmudic rabbis and their views on physical labour, as well as descriptions of Jewish commercial and industrial activities and vocational training in ancient times.

The Arts & Crafts in Philadelphia, Maryland and South Carolina ... (Alfred Coxe Prime, 1929) The publication of the following gleanings from eighteenth century newspapers has been made possible through the generous cooperation of Mrs Alfred C Prime. The advertisements in this volume relating to the arts and crafts represent only a small part of the main collection containing about twenty thousand cards. Mr Prime was interested in manufactures and craftsmen of all kinds, and his gleanings from early newspapers which have been continued and made complete by Mrs Prime are of inestimable value to the antiquarian.

Preface: The Gospel According To Monty Python (Julian Doyle, 2014-06-04) THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MONTY PYTHON Who was the real Brian? Who was the real Jesus? Did the Romans build the Jerusalem Aqueduct? Were the Magi really wise? And were the Peoples Front of Judea splitters? All the crucial issues this book dares to confront. Life of Brian editor Julian Doyle not only reveals some telling information about the filming process but also compares each and every hysterical scene of the film with the actual Biblical events and comes to some extraordinary conclusions, including the well-held belief that Life of Brian is the most accurate Biblical film ever made. A must not only for Python fans but film students wishing to understand the process of comedy editing.
