Activity 16 Postwar America:

Technology in Postwar America Carroll Pursell,2007-06-29 Carroll Pursell tells the story of the evolution of American technology since World War II His fascinating and surprising history links pop culture icons with landmarks in technological innovation and shows how postwar politics left their mark on everything from television automobiles and genetically engineered crops to contraceptives Tupperware and the Veg O Matic Just as America s domestic and international policies became inextricably linked during the Cold War so did the nation s public and private technologies The spread of the suburbs fed into demands for an interstate highway system which itself became implicated in urban renewal projects Fear of slipping into a postwar economic depression was offset by the creation of a consumers republic in which buying and using consumer goods became the ultimate act of citizenship and a symbol of an American Way of Life Pursell begins with the events of World War II and the increasing belief that technological progress and the science that supported it held the key to a stronger richer and happier America He looks at the effect of returning American servicemen and servicewomen and the Marshall Plan which sought to integrate Western Europe into America s economic business and technological structure He considers the accumulating problems associated with American technological supremacy which by the end of the 1960s led to a crisis of confidence Pursell concludes with an analysis of how consumer technologies create a cultural understanding that makes political technologies acceptable and even seem inevitable while those same political technologies provide both form and content for the technologies found at home and at work By understanding this history Pursell hopes to advance a better understanding of the postwar American self

While America Watches Jeffrey Shandler,2000-09-21 The Holocaust holds a unique place in American public culture and as Jeffrey Shandler argues in While America Watches it is television more than any other medium that has brought the Holocaust into our homes our hearts and our minds Much has been written about Holocaust film and literature and yet the medium that brings the subject to most people television has been largely neglected Now Shandler provides the first account of how television has familiarized the American people with the Holocaust He starts with wartime newsreels of liberated concentration camps showing how they set the moral tone for viewing scenes of genocide and then moves to television to explain how the Holocaust and the Holocaust survivor have gained stature as moral symbols in American culture From early teleplays to coverage of the Eichmann trial and the Holocaust miniseries as well as documentaries popular series such as All in the Family and Star Trek and news reports of recent interethnic violence in Bosnia Shandler offers an enlightening tour of television history Shandler also examines the many controversies that televised presentations of the Holocaust have sparked demonstrating how their impact extends well beyond the broadcasts themselves While America Watches is sure to continue this discussion and possibly the controversies among many readers

Winning Women's Hearts and Minds Diana Cucuz,2023-01-31 Throughout the Cold War Soviet citizens had limited access to US life and culture Amerika a glossy Russian language magazine similar to Life provided a rare exception Produced by the United States Information Agency USIA America's first peacetime propaganda organization Amerika was used to influence the Soviet public and convince women in particular that an American style consumer culture and conservative gender norms could better their lives Winning Women's Hearts and Minds relies on USIA archives issues of Amerika and American women's magazines such as the Ladies Home Journal to show how during the postwar period USIA officials deployed idealized images of American women as happy fulfilled and feminine wives mothers and homemakers This study analyses how Amerika was used to appeal to Soviet women Portrayed in the US media as babushkas they were considered unfeminine overworked and deprived of consumer goods and services by a repressive regime Diana Cucuz provides a gendered analysis of the USIA and of Amerika whose propaganda campaign relied heavily on postwar conservative gender norms and images of domestic contentment to convey positive messages about the American way of life in the hopes of undermining the Soviet regime Winning Women's Hearts and Minds sheds light on the significance of women gender and consumption to international politics during the Cold War Constructing a Social Science for Postwar America Steve J. Goings, Raymond A. Mohl, 1996-05-20 In recent decades an exciting new scholarship has emerged that is changing the way African American urban history is perceived While earlier studies often portrayed African Americans as passive and powerless or as victims of white racism and slum pathologies The New African American Urban History emphasizes the new scholarship that conveys a sense of active involvement It supports the view of African Americans as people empowered engaged in struggle living their lives with dignity and shaping their own futures In this perceptive volume contributors examine the great modern migrations of African Americans to the city the creation and expansion of black communities and black life and culture with special emphasis on working class culture This collection of essays written by prominent scholars comes together in perfect harmony with a common thematic approach and interpretive analysis which has shaped new writing in the field for the past decade Both groundbreaking and inspiring The New African American Urban History will prove to be an invaluable resource for students and professionals in urban and ethnic studies Public Affairs Information Service Bulletin, 1923 Research Bulletin, 1944 The American economic review, 1945 NEA Research Bulletin, 1943 *Reports to the ...
