Women in African Cinema Lizelle Bisschoff, Stefanie Van de Peer, 2019-11-14 Women in African Cinema Beyond the Body Politic showcases the very prolific but often marginalised presence of women in African cinema both on the screen and behind the camera. This book provides the first in depth and sustained examination of women in African cinema. Films by women from different geographical regions are discussed in case studies that are framed by feminist theoretical and historical themes and seen through an anti colonial philosophical political and socio cultural cinematic lens. A historical and theoretical introduction provides the context for thematic chapters exploring topics ranging from female identities female friendships women in revolutionary cinema motherhood and daughterhood women's bodies sexuality and spirituality. Each chapter serves up a theoretical historical discussion of the chosen theme followed by two in depth case studies that provide contextual and transnational readings of the films as well as outlining production distribution and exhibition contexts. This book contributes to the feminist anti racist revision of the canon by placing African women filmmakers squarely at the centre of African film culture. Demonstrating the depth and diversity of the feminine or female aesthetic in African cinema this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of African cinema media studies and African studies.

Projecting Nation Cara Moyer-Duncan, 2020-07-01 In 1994 not long after South Africa made its historic transition to multiracial democracy the nation's first black majority government determined that film had the potential to promote social cohesion stimulate economic development and create jobs. In 1999 the new National Film and Video Foundation was charged with fostering a vibrant socially engaged and self sufficient film industry. What are the results of this effort to create a truly national cinematic enterprise? Projecting Nation: South African Cinemas after 1994 answers that question by examining the ways in which national and transnational forces have shaped the representation of race and nation in feature length narrative fiction films. Offering a systematic analysis of cinematic texts in the context of the South African film industry author Cara Moyer Duncan analyzes both well known works like District 9 (2009) and neglected or understudied films like My Shit Father and My Lotto Ticket (2008) to show how the ways filmmakers produce cinema and the ways diverse audiences experience it whether they watch major releases in theaters in predominantly white suburban enclaves or straight to DVD productions in their own homes are informed by South Africans multiple experiences of nation in a globalizing world.

Salmons, Shannon Dubenion-Smith, 2007-08-15 This volume contains 22 revised papers originally presented at the 17th International Conference on Historical Linguistics held August 2005 in Madison Wisconsin USA. The papers cover a broad range of languages including well studied languages of Europe but also Aramaic Zoque and Uto Aztec. Japanese and Korean Afrikaans and the Pilbara languages of Australia.
