The Practice of Enterprise Modeling Geert Poels, Frederik Gailly, Estefania Serral Asensio, Monique Snoeck, 2017-11-14
This volume constitutes the proceedings of the 10th IFIP WG 8.1 Conference on the Practice of Enterprise Modeling held in November 2017 in Leuven Belgium. The conference was created by the International Federation for Information Processing (IFIP) Working Group 8.1 to offer a forum for knowledge transfer and experience sharing between the academic and practitioner communities. The 20 full papers and 4 short papers accepted were carefully reviewed and selected from 70 submissions. They include research results, practitioner experience reports, and work in progress papers and were presented in 8 sessions covering diverse topics related to enterprise modelling and its application in practice.

National Climate Change Adaptation Emerging Practices in Monitoring and Evaluation OECD, 2015-04-16
This report draws upon emerging monitoring and evaluation practices across developed and developing countries to identify four tools that countries can draw upon in their own assessment frameworks.

Flexible Query Answering Systems Henning Christiansen, Mohand-Said Hacid, Troels Andreasen, Henrik Legind Larsen, 2004-06-17
This volume constitutes the proceedings of the Sixth International Conference on Flexible Query Answering Systems (FQAS 2004) held in Lyon, France, on June 24-26, 2004. FQAS is the premier conference for researchers and practitioners concerned with the vital task of providing easy, flexible, and intuitive access to information for every type of need. This multidisciplinary conference draws on several research areas including databases, information retrieval, knowledge representation, soft computing, multimedia, and human-computer interaction. With FQAS 2004, the FQAS conference series celebrated its tenth anniversary as it has been held every two years since 1994. The overall theme of the FQAS conferences is innovative query systems aimed at providing easy, flexible, and intuitive access to information. Such systems are intended to facilitate retrieval from information repositories such as databases, libraries, and the Web. These repositories are typically equipped with standard query systems that are often inadequate for users. The focus of FQAS is the development of query systems that are more expressive, informative, cooperative, productive, and intuitive to use.

Building Innovation in Ageing and Health Policy Alessandra Ricciardelli, Lorenzo Mercurio, 2026-01-01
This book offers a data-driven analysis of aging, exploring demographic trends and their impact on decision-making in healthcare. It explores the clinical, economic, and environmental factors influencing multimorbidity, frailty, and disability to stratify disease progression and prognosis for a more personalized approach to care. The book also examines behavioral and psychological determinants, outlining trajectories for active and healthy aging. It addresses the challenges and opportunities of the Silver Economy, focusing on work participation, retirement, and welfare strategies that adapt to an aging population. Finally, the book advocates for mainstreaming aging into health.

policy proposing innovative institutional mechanisms for more sustainable future oriented healthcare systems Featuring case studies practical strategies and insights and policy frameworks to improve quality of life and demands of tomorrow s aging population this book is essential reading for professional and practitioners as well as researchers scholars academics and policy makers in healthcare public policy and economics

Adaptive User Interfaces M. Schneider-Hufschmidt, T. Kühme, Uwe Malinowski, 1993-07-08 The area of intelligent and adaptive user interfaces has been of interest to the research community for a long time Much effort has been spent in trying to find a stable theoretical base for adaptivity in human computer interaction and to build prototypical systems showing features of adaptivity in real life interfaces To date research in this field has not led to a coherent view of problems let alone solutions A workshop was organized which brought together a number of well known researchers in the area of adaptive user interfaces with a view to develop a coherent view of the results accomplished in the field organize basic ideas which might lead to a more general methodology for adaptivity in order to overcome the problem of specialized non generalizable solutions and discuss possible areas for future research in the field and to define criteria for the selection of the most promising directions of such research The results of the workshop are presented in this volume The authors have collected papers from the participants which describe both their research and their views on questions which were dealt with during the workshop A state of the art report and taxonomy for the field of adaptive interfaces and a discussion summary are also included in this volume

IDS Bulletin ,2008 Cognitive Systems Engineering Jens Rasmussen, Annelise Mark Pejtersen, L. P. Goodstein, 1994-08-16 Powerful information technologies and the complex support systems they engender are evolving faster than people s ability to adjust to them In the workplace this leads to troublesome task performance added stress on users increased organizational inefficiency and in some cases a heightened risk of wide scale disaster In the marketplace it makes for consumer dissatisfaction Clearly traditional human computer interaction HCI and system design SD solutions to this dilemma have proven woefully inadequate What is needed is a fresh multidisciplinary approach offering a broader more dynamic framework for assessing needs and designing usable efficient systems Taking modeling concepts from engineering psychology cognitive science information science and computer science cognitive systems engineering CSE provides such a framework This book is the first comprehensive guide to the emerging new field of CSE Providing equal parts theory and practice it is based on the authors many years of experience with work systems in a wide range of work domains including process control manufacturing hospitals and libraries Throughout the emphasis is on powerful analytical techniques that enhance the systems designer s ability to see the big picture and to design for all crucial aspects of human work interaction Applicable to highly structured technical systems such as process plants as well as less structured user driven systems like libraries these analytical techniques form the basis for the evaluation and design guidelines that make up the bulk of this book And since the proof is in the pudding the authors provide a chapter length case history in which they demonstrate the success of their approach when applied to a full scale software design project The project a retrieval system for public libraries is described in detail from field studies to concept validation experiments and of course the empirical evaluation of the system while in use by the library users and personnel Computer based information systems are rapidly becoming a fundamental part of the human landscape How that landscape evolves over the next decade or so whether it becomes a hostile one or one that generously supports the needs of future generations is in the hands of all those involved with the study and design of information systems

Online Assessment, Measurement, and Evaluation David D. Williams, Mary Hricko, Scott L.
