Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1976 Applications of Photonic Technology 2 George A. Lampropoulos, Roger A. Lessard, 2013-11-11 This book presents a current review of photonic technologies and their applications. The papers published in this book are extended versions of the papers presented at the International Conference on Applications of Photonic Technology ICAPT 96 held in Montreal, Canada, on July 29 to August 1, 1996. The theme of this event was Closing the Gap Between Theory, Developments and Applications. The term photonics covers both optics and optical engineering areas of growing scientific and commercial importance throughout the world. It is estimated that photonic technology related applications will increase exponentially over the next few years and will play a significant role in the global economy by reaching a quarter of a trillion of US dollars by the year 2000. The global interest and advancements of this technology are represented in this book where leading scientists of twenty-two countries with advanced technology in photonics present their latest results. The papers selected herein are grouped to address six distinct areas of photonic technology. The reader will find throughout the book a combination of invited and contributed papers which reflect the state of the art today and provide some insight about the future of this technology. The first two papers are invited. They discuss business aspects of photonic engineering. One examines if chip-to-chip interconnections by means of optical technology are a good economic choice while the other discusses the photonic technology from an entrepreneurial viewpoint. Papers related to materials and considered for photonic applications e.g. Lighting Dimensions, 2000 National Union Catalog, 1980

Catalog of the United States Geological Survey Library, 1974 Digital (R)Evolution in Radiology Walter Hruby, 2013-06-29 Three decades have passed since my first personal experiences, influences and contacts with computer applications in the field of medicine. These experiences were influenced by diverse presentations, publications and seminars concerning various applications of information technology as early as in 1970. Univac International Executive Centre, Rome. The first clinical proposals and discussions during the first World Congress of Intensive Care Medicine, London, 1974, strongly impressed me since they demonstrated that the future of medicine would be changed rapidly by the use of computer technology. In 1975, when I started my radiology residency, my clinical and academic interests were focused on two major topics: i) interventional radiology and the clinical responsibility of the radiologist for the patient and ii) the improvement of radiological services for both the clinician and the patient through the use of digital technology. These two topics, firstly interventional radiology and secondly computer technology along with all digital techniques developed in respect to examinations and modalities, have been the basis for my personal evolution of medicine, especially of digital radiology.
