Anglophone Cameroon literature 1959–90: A brief overview

This article examines modern Anglophone Cameroon literature from 1959 to 1990. The article argues that like most literature emanating from the continent a proper understanding of Anglophone Cameroon literature must be predicated on an analysis of its specific socio-historical determinants. A careful analysis of the corpus of Anglophone Cameroon literature from its inception to the 1990s reveals two broad phases. The first phase covers the period from 1959 to about 1984. In the Republic of Cameroon, this period begins shortly before ‘the end’ of colonialism to the rise of Paul Biya as the second president of Cameroon. The writers during this period like their counterparts elsewhere in Africa, critique the ‘othering’ of formerly colonized people in texts written by the colonizers. To counteract this marginalization, and as a vital part of the process of decolonization, these texts seek to give voice to the ‘subaltern’ in order to expose the misrepresentation and ‘negativization’ so rampant in colonial writings. The second phase of Anglophone Cameroon literature started in the mid-eighties and reached its apex in the 1990s. The literature of this period is an imaginative response to the political, social, and economic climate of this time. The article concludes that the 1980s and 1990s were pivotal decades for Anglophone Cameroon literature. The lack of publishing opportunities abroad and at home led authors to be very industrious and ingenious. They tailored their literary style and genre to the taste of their home audience. The result was an engaging literature that responded directly to the political, social and economic climate of the time. Keywords: Anglophone Cameroon literature, book history, literary history, postcolonialism.

The hallmark of African literature lies in the social role of the African writer. This critical stance has been espoused by several African critics including, Chinua Achebe (Morning Yet on Creation Day, 1975), Wole Soyinka (Myth, Literature and the African World, 1976) and Chidi Amuta (Towards a Sociology of African literature, 1986). As the authors of the Empire Writes Back explain, “this insistence on the social role of the African artist and the denial of the European preoccupation with individual experience has been one of the most distinctive features in the assertion of a unique African aesthetic” (Ashcroft et al. 125). Consequently, there is a vital link between African literature and the society that produced it. An understanding of Anglophone Cameroon literature must therefore be predicated on an analysis of its specific socio-historical determinants. A careful analysis of the corpus of Anglophone Cameroon literature from its inception to the 1990s reveals two broad phases: a clash of cultures and a response to ‘horizontal’ colonialism. Anglophone-Cameroon Literature Emmanuel Fru Doh, 2014-10-28 Against a disturbing political backdrop and through an in depth appraisal of selected illustrative texts from major genres poetry prose and drama Emmanuel Fru Doh presents the origins and growth of a young but potent literature To him Anglophone Cameroon literature is a weapon in the hands of an oppressed English speaking minority in his native Cameroon Africa who were unfairly manipulated by the United Nations and Britain into a skewed federation in the name of an independence deal

The Cameroonian Novel of English Expression. An Introduction A. Ambanasom, 2009-08-15 Initially considered something of a black sheep within the Anglophone Cameroon literary genres the Anglophone novel has gradually grown to carve out a respectable niche for itself in the Anglophone Cameroon sub system imposing itself in a way that makes it impossible for critics to ignore it Now a vibrant genre it even threatens to overtake drama and poetry both of which have enjoyed more critical attention This book is a study of how Anglophone Cameroon has contributed in extending the possibilities of the novel as a literary form and of some of the established conventions necessary for a fruitful evaluation of the growing body of the Cameroonian novel in English In this eclectic and compelling book Ambanasom sets out to achieve three primary objectives to introduce the reader to the extensive body of Cameroonian novels in English to re examine the distorting and limiting criteria upon which the critical assessment of the Cameroonian novel in English has so far been based and to bridge the widening chasm between literary theory and actual critical practice To achieve these objectives Ambanasom begins by elaborating an alternative and flexible theoretical framework which he christens the Socio Artistic Approach and which according to him is concerned with both a text s thematic moral cultural or ideological issues on the one hand and its central literary analysis on the other He then proceeds to use this new critical framework to examine twenty seven major Cameroonian novels in English There are critical voices already emerging within the Anglophone Cameroonian literary circles calling for rigorous teaching and practice of theory in the interpretation of literary works setting in motion a critical discourse Such a call is salutary and welcome Those university lecturers whose responsibility it is to teach theoretical courses should take this call very seriously moving from theory to hands on practice This book is Ambanasom s contribution to that critical debate

Perspectives on Written Cameroon Literature in English A. Ambanasom, 2013-02-17 In 2009 Anglophone Cameroon literature celebrated its fifty years of existence Now at the mature age of fifty plus this literature has a great deal to write home about even if it still has a lot to do in its pursuit of excellence Part of its maturity resides in the fact that although the scale of literary creativity and literary criticism is skewed in favour of the former Anglophone Cameroon literary criticism is gradually waking up from slumber in an attempt to catch up with the rapidly expanding creativity The essays in this book comment practically on some aspects of all the genres of written literature that the Anglophone Cameroon creative writers have produced so far the novel drama poetry the short story the essay and childrens literature The essays on the whole are a testimony of the transition and reality from the apparent drought of Anglophone Cameroon literary paucity to the actual fruitful period of Anglophone Cameroon abundance of literary creativity The Anglophone Cameroonians have appropriated an imperial language English to serve their postcolonial Cameroonian vision Their various literary texts are vehicles of representations that are essentially cultural and ideological constructs The works examined are initially anchored on Cameroonian experiences to take on social significance As they are grounded on moving human experiences these works necessarily make references to the immediate Cameroonian environment of their authors before taking on universal human significance The book abundantly evidences and crowns Shadrach Ambanasoms achievements and reputation as a skilled pedagogue on the art of practical literary criticism Landscaping Postcoloniality. The Dissemination of Cameroon Anglophone Literature B.

Ashuntantang,2009-03-15 This is a foundational text on the production and dissemination of Anglophone Cameroon literature The Republic of Cameroon is a bilingual country with English and French as the official languages Ashuntantang shows that the pattern of production and dissemination of Anglophone Cameroon literature is not only framed by the minority status of English and English speaking Cameroonians within the Republic of Cameroon but is also a reflection of a postcolonial reality in Africa where mostly African literary texts published by western multi national corporations are assured wide international accessibility and readership This book establishes that in spite of these setbacks Anglophone Cameroon writers have produced a corpus of work that has enriched the genres of prose poetry and drama and that these texts deserve a wider readership Representations and Renegotiations of the Nation in Anglophone Cameroonian Literature Priscillia M.

Manjoh,2018 Guided by postcolonial theory and the ideas of some Western and African philosophers this study s in depth analysis of the novels of three Anglophone Cameroonian authors addresses the question of how principles of nation formation and nationalism are influenced by both colonialism and pre colonial in situ constituents The analysis focuses on how nations represented in the imaginary worlds constructed by the novelists are dominated by aspects such as ethnicity corruption authoritarianism nepotism solidarity and communitarianism which marginalize the masses leaving them in misery and abject poverty Tracing the historical settings of the novels from 1948 till present day the study delineates the writers representation of the Anglophones of Cameroon as being marginalized as well as suffering from self marginalization and also demonstrates how postcolonial misery in Africa is not caused solely by colonialism but by several other aspects This study reads the works of these Anglophone novelists not only as representing aspects in a nation but as tools of renegotiating a better society and a way forward for this nation Art and Political Thought in Bole Butake Emmanuel Ngwang,Kenneth Usongo,2016-09-30

The book Art and Political Thought in Bole Butake through a pluralist critical approach interrogates Butake s major creative works Lake God And Palm Wine Will Flow The Survivors Shoes and Four Men in Arms Dance of the Vampires and The Rape of Michelle mainly in terms of their political underpinnings and cultural signification The intention is to place his drama within the socio political matrix of Cameroon and demonstrate the topicality of the issues of governance marginalization and corruption in Cameroon or Africa that Butake consistently foregrounds in his creative works. The study opens with an overview of the historical and social milieu that feeds Butake's imagination and the introduction is followed by an interview of the playwright in which he explains his mission as a writer. The next two chapters appraise the political symbolism of Butake's plays and chapter five undertakes a comparison of the colonial legacy and the culture of corruption in Butake's Lake God and The Rape of Michelle Women in Butake's imaginative universe. Play a non-negligible role in change. They are portrayed as political and social activists in their challenge to autocratic rule. This is the leitmotif of chapter six which highlights the contribution of women towards political change in Cameroon. In chapters seven and eight the focus is on articulating the cultural signification of Butake's plays in terms of political change. Concomitantly these chapters also demonstrate Butake's seamless incorporation of elements of oral literature in his drama as he interpolates proverbs, divinations and other elements of orality in his work. Chapter nine of the book points out how Butake foregrounds the character traits of his protagonists against the backdrop of traditional Noni religion as well as Christianity. Thus the bigotry and belligerence of both the Fon and Father Leo in Lake God for example are projected through a supernatural frame. The conclusion appraises the contemporaneity of Butake's drama. His oeuvre continues to inspire so many people from disenfranchised groups that see in his drama a path to reclaiming liberties and to critics who are challenged to hone their literary tools in the endeavor to situate his works within the dynamics of politics and culture in Africa.

Education of the Deprived A. Ambanasom, 2010-07-01 Education of the Deprived is a perceptive socio-artistic examination of the key works of some major writers of Anglophone Cameroon literary drama today. For over two decades now socio-political developments in Cameroon including the liberalization of the press have led to an unprecedented proliferation of political, journalistic and imaginative writings. Availing themselves of their new found freedom of expression, Cameroonians in general are forcefully articulating their views more than ever before and creative writers in particular are artistically recording intimate and painful experiences in the on-going endeavour to make sense of the socio-political environment they are mapping out through images and symbols the peculiar contour of the collective Cameroonian soul. What observers have noticed with regard to Anglophone Cameroon imaginative writing however is that there are few significant critical works to match the burgeoning creative literature. While in the 1970s there was a cry concerning the scarcity of imaginative works by Anglophone Cameroonians the complaint now at the turn of the 21st century is that there is a dearth of critical literature capable of catapulting on to the international literary scene the Anglophone Cameroon literature being written. This book covers both traditional and modern drama as written by Anglophones, lays bare the technical differences between the two dramatic traditions and brings out the central themes developed by these committed dramatists.
