United We Stand? Aaron Belkin, 2012-02-01 It has long been assumed that leaders engage in international conflict to unify their followers what is often called the rally round the flag hypothesis Despite its intuitive appeal however this hypothesis does not always provide a compelling explanation of the relationship between domestic politics and international conflict In United We Stand Aaron Belkin shows that in one important realm civil military relations leaders often prefer divisiveness over cohesion When they feel domestically vulnerable leaders use international conflict in order to create and exacerbate rivalries among their own military forces to lower the risk of a coup and to contribute to the consolidation and stability of the political order Case studies include post Soviet Georgia and Syria

The Negotiation Process and the Resolution of International Conflicts P. Terrence Hopmann, 1996 P Terrence Hopmann predicts that as the post cold war era progresses diplomacy will increasingly replace military action as a means for resolving international disputes in all but the most desperate situations Indeed he foresees an era dominated by many smaller conflicts of interest and identity both within and between states as superseding the age of the global standoff between nuclear superpowers Hopmann contends that the avoidance of violence in these situations and the resolution of underlying conflicts will increasingly give center stage to negotiation the primary activity of diplomacy In this comprehensive appraisal of the negotiation process Hopmann synthesizes the vast body of literature on the subject and constructs a framework for analyzing the many dimensions of international negotiations

Cradle of Conflict Michael Knights, 2005 assistance capabilities of US adversaries

Air Corps News Letter, 1968

Democracy and War David Rousseau, 2005-03-24 Introduction domestic institutions political norms and the evolution of international conflict The impact of institutions in international crises International disputes and the evolution of conflict Institutional constraint versus regime type Political norms versus institutional structures Democratization and international conflict The evolution of conflicts institutions and norms

The Politics of Coercion Ellwood P. Hinman, 2002 The focus of this thesis is the following research question What does coercion theory suggest about the use of airpower in post Cold War conflict This thesis aims to determine if any of the existing theories of coercion namely punishment risk decapitation and denial can stand alone as an adequately coherent substantive and codified approach Three important attributes of conflict in the post Cold War era 1 limited non protracted war 2 political restraint and 3 the importance of the better state of peace provide a framework for this analysis If these existing constructs fail the test the study will investigate the potential content and applicability of a new theory for post Cold War coercive airpower Untangling the Cold War William A. Gamson, Andre Modigliani, 1971

Congressional Record United States. Congress, 1963 Social Conflicts Louis Kriesberg, 1982 Todd & Curti's the American Nation Paul S. Boyer, 1995 This book explores seven broad themes central to American history global relations the Constitutional heritage democratic values technology and society cultural diversity geographic diversity and economic development They provide a context for the historical events which will help the student understand the connections between historical events and see how past events are relevant to today's social political and economic concerns Themes in American history Throughout the book the student is asked to think critically about the events and issues that have shaped U S history Helping the student develop critical thinking skills is a key goal of the text Critical thinking and the study of history From Cold War to Long Peace Andreas Wenger, 1996 Human Heritage Miriam Greenblatt, Peter S. Lemmo, 2001 A world history textbook chronicling the rise of Western and Eastern civilizations Includes photos art illustrated charts vocabulary exercises and review questions Nuclear Weapons and International Law in the Post Cold War World Charles J. Moxley, 2000-06-30 This book addresses the issue of the legality of the use of nuclear weapons under international law It includes forwarding remarks by Robert S McNamara David W Leebron and Kosta Tsipis Moxley analyzes the question in light of the July 1996 advisory opinion issued by the International Court of Justice the law as articulated by the United States and generally recognized facts as to the characteristics and effects of nuclear weapons He concludes that the use of nuclear weapons is per se unlawful under the rules of international law and facts recognized by the United States Nuclear Weapons and International Law in the Post Cold War World is an unprecedented exploration of the application of the necessity proportionality and discrimination of principles of international law to nuclear weapons Mobilize Shyam Sankar, Madeline Hart, 2026-03-17 Featured in The Times From the CTO of Palantir comes a bold call to arms for resurrecting America's industrial base and winning the defense technology race that will define the twenty first century America is in an undeclared state of emergency Not since the Cold War has the US faced such powerful enemies and our military isn't ready Shyam Sankar Chief Technology Officer of Palantir issues an urgent call to action Mobilize The American industrial base once underwrote American victory Builders and workers rallied to win World War II For most of the twentieth century great American companies from General Mills to Chrysler had defense businesses that sent mankind into space and won the Cold War But the forges fell silent and the furnaces went dark America's innovators and warfighters were ripped apart Now China not America leads the world in manufacturing America is the underdog The good news is we've been here before Mobilize tells the remarkable true stories of the Americans who moved heaven and earth to produce for our troops and help our country win the twentieth century And it exposes the shocking blunders that broke the Pentagon and weakened our military There s a war for America s future stymied between the forces of complacency and change If we empower exceptional individuals and harness the power of capitalism and competition America can unleash the brains and brawn we need to resurrect our industrial base stop World War III and help our country build and win The American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences ,2004
