

SERVICE BULLETIN

It has been determined that the special exhaust tailpipe extensions used on 1968 Barracudas equipped with the 340 and 383 cu. in. engines will interfere with the hold down chains on all haul-away or rail cars. Consequently these extensions will be packaged and placed in the luggage compartment during assembly.

Without these extensions installed, support for the tailpipes will be provided by conventional strap tailpipe hangers. These hangers must be removed and discarded during new car preparation and the extensions installed as shown below.
