Active Learning: Theoretical Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy,Elizabeth S. Charles,James D. Slotta,Nathaniel Lasry,2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions

we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation Going Gradeless, Grades 6-12 Elise Burns,David Frangiosa,2021-03-03 Reform assessment reduce stress and strengthen learning Great things happen when students are able to focus on their learning instead of their scores However assessment reform including standards based grading remains a hotly debated issue in education Going Gradeless shows that it is possible to teach and assess without the stress of traditional grading practices Sharing their successful shifts to alternate assessment and their perspectives as experienced classroom teachers the authors show you how to remove the negative impacts of grades while still maintaining a high level of accountability Readers will find concrete examples of how these approaches can be developed and applied plus Sample assessments and rubrics Student work samples from all grade levels An accountability checklist A review of collected data It is possible to go gradeless Focusing less on letter grades allows students to interact with the content more deeply develop better relationships with their teachers and peers and gain confidence in the classroom school and beyond Islands in Geography, Law, and Literature Chiara Battisti,Sidia Fiorato,Matteo Nicolini,Thomas Perrin,2022-04-04 This collection explores the heterogeneous places we have traditionally been taught to term islands It stages a conversation on the very idea of island ness thus contributing to a new field of research at the crossroads of law geography literature urban planning politics arts and cultural studies The contributions to this volume discuss the notion of island ness as a device triggering the imagination triggering narratives and representations in different creative fields they explore the interactions between legal socio political and fictional approaches to remoteness and the state of insularity policy responses to both remoteness and boundaries on different scales and the insular legal framing of geographical remoteness The product of a cross disciplinary exchange on islands this edited volume will be of great interest to those working in the fields of Island Studies as well as literary studies scholars geographers and legal scholars El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2005 ,2005 The Emory-Tibet Science Initiative, a Novel Journey in Cross-Cultural Science Education Arri Eisen,Meena M.
