Beyond The Wire English Edition:

Beyond the Barbed Wire Abdellatif Laabi, 2016-07-15 Finalist for the Neustadt International Prize for Literature 2020 Winner of an English PEN Award Introduced by Jim Moore with an interview by Christopher Schaefer Beyond the Barbed Wire is a selection of work by Morocco's greatest living poet Abdellatif Laabi's poetry and literary activism has inspired a generation of writers and thinkers and it resulted in his decade long imprisonment This volume gives a career spanning overview of Laabi's poetry from the late 1960s to the 2010s It includes a generous selection of the prison writings of the 1970s poems that speak from beyond the borders of what is human as the poet writes a hinterland of physical and emotional torture in which hunger strikes are the only weapon we've left Among these is a poem addressed to the poet's cell which is right here inside me like a second body and another written piecemeal to friends on the outside and later reassembled Beyond the Barbed Wire pays testament to the human need to speak in the face of censorship that epic of silence These poems Laabi's bitter fruits of the murderous twilight renew the possibility of a poetry that is genuinely urgent necessary a poetry of anger anguish love wit and hope touched by a philosopher's vision and perspicuity The book includes an interview with the poet in which he discusses his practice his views on education his beliefs about a poet's duty the influence of his parents and his optimism With Laabi's renewed prominence in the Moroccan intellectual scene following the Arab Spring and with a new generation of artists and activists looking to him as a source of inspiration this book shows why Laabi is more than Morocco's leading poet but also a guiding cultural and political force

Beyond the Wire Peter Shirlow, Kieran McEvoy, 2008-01-20 Analyses the positive role that former prisoners can have in reconstructing communities in the wake of internal conflict

Beyond the Wire Michael A. Allen, Carla Martinez Machain, Michael E. Flynn, Andrew Stravers, 2023 In a time where US deployments are uncertain this book shows how US service members can either build the necessary support to sustain their presence or create added animosity towards the military presence The United States stands at a crossroads in international security The backbone of its international position for the last 70 years has been the massive network of overseas military deployments However the US now faces pressures to limit its overseas presence and spending In Beyond the Wire Michael Allen Michael Flynn Carla Martinez Machain and Andrew Stravers argue that the US has entered into a Domain of Competitive Consent where the longevity of overseas deployments relies upon the buy in from host state populations and what other major powers offer in security guarantees Drawing from three years of surveys and interviews across fourteen countries they demonstrate that a key component of building support for the US mission is the service members themselves as they interact with local community members Highlighting both the positive contact and economic benefits that flow from military deployments and the negative interactions like crime and anti base protests this book shows in the most rigorous and concrete way possible how US policy on the ground shapes its ability to advance its foreign policy goals
