Mann, Albert J

J A Scherpbier, John A. Spencer, 2011-12-02 Medical Education Theory and Practice is a new text linking the theory and the practice for graduate students and educators who want to go beyond the basics. The scholarship of medical education is above all a practice but one that has a strong theoretical foundation. Neither theory nor practice stand still and both are grounded in research. The novelty of this book lies in its interweaving of practice, theory, innovation and research. The book starts with a theorised contemporary overview of the field. Next it explores the theoretical foundations of medical education in depth. The remainder of the book reviews a whole range of educational contexts, processes and outcomes. This work has been edited by a distinguished international team of medical educationalists and written by equally accomplished authors from across the globe representing a spectrum of disciplines. This will be an invaluable text for all Masters Students in health professions education as well as PhD students and education researchers wanting a background to the discipline. Educators and medical students will also find it a very useful resource. Written by key figures in medical educational research combined with a strong editorial influence from the international editorial team. The text has a strong evidence based approach that is fully cognisant of research methodology issues. The book provides a scholarly explanation on the topic rather than aiming to say the last word. Written throughout in a clear and comprehensible style. The content is extensively referenced with additional suggestions for further reading.

Design Recommendations for Intelligent Tutoring Systems: Volume 7 - Self-Improving Systems Benjamin Goldberg, 2019-10-23 This book on self improving systems is the seventh in a planned series of books that examine key topics e.g. learner modeling, instructional strategies, authoring, domain modeling, assessment, impact on learning, team tutoring, self improving systems, data visualization in intelligent tutoring system, ITS design. This book focuses on self improving systems. The discussion chapters in this book examine topics through the lens of the Generalized Intelligent Framework for Tutoring (GIFT). GIFT is a modular service oriented architecture created to reduce the cost and skill required to author ITSs, distribute ITSs, manage instruction within ITSs and evaluate the effect of ITS technologies on learning performance, retention, transfer of skills and other instructional outcomes.

Connecting America Barry Leonard, 2010-11 Broadband is the great infrastructure challenge of the early 21st century. Broadband is a foundation for economic growth, job creation, global competitiveness and a better way of life. The number of Americans who have broadband at home has grown from 8 million in 2000 to nearly 200 million last year. But 100 million Americans do not have broadband at home. In early 2009 Congress directed the FCC to develop a National Broadband Plan to ensure that every American has access to broadband capability. This plan must also include a strategy for achieving affordability and maximizing use of broadband. The plan presented here ensures that the entire broadband ecosystem, networks, devices, content and applications is healthy.
