Refocusing the African-American Dream Edwin E. Thompson RIA MBA,MSgt. Edward E. Thompson Jr. USAF,2020-05-14 This book depicts the challenging experiences of two twins Dreams Hope and Passion in obtaining the American Dream Establishing the argument for Refocusing the African American Dream is precipitated by the need to clarify what is freedom and what makes freedom so important Generally dreams are food for the soul Dreams also give us hope Whereas hope is the opportunity for expectation and passion is the need and desire to turn those hopes and dreams into reality With freedom comes responsibility There are three fundamental critical societal problems which impacts The African American Dream they are fundamentally social problems notably an increase in single parent households inadequate education preparation and no economic foundation Despite the difficulties associated with single family households inadequate education preparation and no financial foundation The Declaration of Independence depicts the concept of freedom in terms of inalienable rights liberty and the pursuit of happiness As a result there is no mention of economic independence Economics is an important issue which confronts our families because it is a necessary means for financial freedom and it facilitates our participation in a market economy If a culture has no strong economic base then it resembles a plantation The civil rights movement was very much about gaining control over economic means and not so much about getting political power as an end in itself Your circumstances at birth mainly what your parents do for a living are an even more significant factor in how far you get in life than we had previously realized On the other hand if you are first generation educated like the Thompson twins it is your Dreams Hope and Passion that makes the difference In either case you are the foundation for the next generation s success The process only works if you have a flourishing economy at best
