Munawaroh, 2017-08-09 Ideas for 21st Century Education contains the papers presented at the Asian Education Symposium AES 2016 held on November 22 23 2016 in Bandung Indonesia The book covers 11 topics 1 Art Education AED 2 Adult Education ADE 3 Business Education BED 4 Course Management CMT 5 Curriculum Research and Development CRD 6 Educational Foundations EDF 7 Learning Teaching Methodologies and Assessment TMA 8 Global Issues in Education and Research GER 9 Pedagogy PDG 10 Ubiquitous Learning UBL 11 Other Areas of Education OAE Unbundling the University Curriculum Kate O'Connor, 2022-09-02 In a context in which explicit attention to the curriculum has been sidelined in universities strategy this book makes an argument for why curriculum matters both in understanding the effects of unbundled online learning and more broadly It takes up two particular curriculum issues which are amplified in an unbundled context differences in the formulation of curriculum between disciplines and professional fields and the extent these are recognised in university strategy and the push for constructivist pedagogies and its effects on curriculum construction Since the onslaught of MOOCs in 2012 unbundled forms of online learning offered via partnerships with external online program management and MOOC providers have grown significantly across the university sector There has been much debate about the implications of these partnerships but the focus has predominantly been on the engagement of students and their learning This book takes a different and novel approach looking instead at the effects on curriculum and knowledge Drawing on selected case studies the book reflects on how university leaders and academics engaged with MOOCs and other forms of unbundled online learning in the early 2010s and the effects of these reforms on curriculum practice It captures in detail the complex and difficult work involved in university curriculum making in a way rarely seen in discussions of higher education And it generates new insights about some of the critical problems manifest in the ongoing moves to embrace unbundled online learning today Teaching the Whole Student David Schoem, Christine Modey, Edward P. Transparency in Assessment - Exploring the Influence of Explicit Assessment Criteria Anders Jönsson, Frans Prins, 2019-04-03 In many schools and higher education institutions it has become common practice to share assessment criteria with students Sometimes it is required for accountability purposes at other times criteria are used as a means to communicate expectations to students However the idea that explicit assessment criteria should be shared with students has been contested On the one hand research has shown that explicit criteria may positively affect student performance reduce their anxiety as well as support students use of self regulated learning strategies On the other hand there are fears that explicit criteria may have a restraining influence on students learning as well as limiting their autonomy and creativity There are also indications of students becoming more performance oriented as opposed to learning oriented when being provided with explicit assessment criteria Taken together it is not fully understood under which circumstances it is productive for student learning to share explicit assessment criteria and under which circumstances it is not In particular empirical research on the proposed negative effects of sharing criteria with learners is limited and most fears voiced in the literature are based on individual experiences and anecdotal evidence In this book we therefore bring different perspectives on transparency in assessment together in order to further our understanding of how students are influenced by the use of explicit assessment criteria A deeper understanding of the influence of explicit assessment criteria on students understanding of criteria motivation and learning is equally imperative for future research and educational practice both of which need to go beyond individual opinions and convictions

Active Learning: Theoretical Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy, Elizabeth S. Charles, James D. Slotta, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation
