Appendix Cancer Persuasive Speech:

The Competent Public Speaker Sherwyn P. Morreale, 2010 Based on the National Communication Association's conceptual model for teaching and evaluating undergraduate public speeches as developed by the author and others Sherwyn P. Morreale offers a highly accessible, easy-to-teach, easy-to-learn approach to public speaking. The approach adopted in the text includes eight public speaking competencies: four on speech preparation and four on speech delivery, which are enhanced by emphasizing the impact of technology, ethics, culture, and diversity on public speaking. A number of unique features designed to improve teaching and learning include: students used as examples in each chapter so that readers can follow them as they learn about public speaking; tables and boxed text to reinforce the most important learning points; checkpoint and self-assessment tools so that readers can determine their level of competence and find out whether they are ready to proceed to the next chapter; competence-building activities for students to apply chapter concepts and practice public speaking strategies in the classroom or as take-home assignments; an accompanying website which is updated on a regular basis and offers a forum for students to contact the author; designed for introductory-level public speaking courses taught at two- and four-year colleges and universities, this text offers a distinctively practical alternative for students and teachers to achieve consistency across multiple sections of the public speaking course. An instructor's manual is available on request.

Public Speaking Steven A. Beebe, Susan J. Beebe, 2003 This book is written to be the primary text for a college-level public speaking course. The authors offer strategies that are anchored in ethical principles to assist speakers in articulating a message that connects with their audience. They emphasize that an effective speaker is an ethical speaker. Audience-centered speakers articulate truthful messages that give audience members free choice in responding to a message while also using effective means of ensuring message clarity and credibility.
