Cognitive Linguistic Explorations In Biblical Studies:

Cognitive Linguistic Explorations in Biblical Studies Bonnie Howe, Joel B. Green, 2014-10-24 Writing reading and interpretation are acts of human minds requiring complex cognition at every point A relatively new field of studies cognitive linguistics focuses on how language and cognition are interconnected Linguistic structures both shape cognitive patterns and are shaped by them The Cognitive Linguistics in Biblical Interpretation section of the Society of Biblical Literature gathers scholars interested in applying cognitive linguistics to biblical studies focusing on how language makes meaning how texts evoke authority and how contemporary readers interact with ancient texts This collection of essays represents first fruits from the first six years 2006 2012 of that effort drawing on cognitive metaphor study mental spaces and conceptual blending narrative theory and cognitive grammar Contributors include Eve Sweetser Ellen van Wolde Hugo Lundhaug and Jesper T Nielsen Theology in the Flesh John Sanders, 2016-08-01 Metaphors and other mental tools are used to reason not just speak about God salvation truth and morality Figurative language structures our theological and moral reasoning in powerful ways This book uses an approach known as cognitive linguistics to explore the incredibly rich ways our conceptual tools derived from embodied life and culture shape the way we understand Christian teachings and practices The cognitive revolution has generated amazing insights into how human minds make sense of the world This book applies these insights to the ways Christians think about topics such as God justice sin and salvation It shows that Christians often share a set of very general ideas but disagree on what the Bible means or the moral stances we should take It explains why Christians often develop a number of appropriate but sometimes incompatible ways to understand the Bible and various doctrines It assists Christians in understanding those with whom they disagree Hopefully simply better understanding how and why people think the way they do will foster better dialogue and greater humility Luke Was Not A Christian: Reading the Third Gospel and Acts within Judaism Joshua Paul Smith, 2023-12-18 In this volume Joshua Paul Smith challenges the long held assumption that Luke and Acts were written by a gentile arguing instead that the author of these texts was educated and enculturated within a Second Temple Jewish context Advancing from a consciously interdisciplinary perspective Smith considers the question of Lukan authorship from multiple fronts including reception history and social memory theory literary criticism and the emerging discipline of cognitive sociolinguistics The result is an alternative portrait of Luke the Evangelist one who sees the mission to the gentiles not as a supersession of Jewish law and tradition but rather as a fulfillment and expansion of Israel's own salvation history Science, Religion(s), and Spirit(s) in China Jacob Chengwei Feng, 2025-12-08 What happens when the earliest Christian missionaries to China encounter advanced Tang science Daoism and the power of qi This groundbreaking book takes you inside the lost world of Jingjiao the Luminous Teaching Religion uncovering how these East Syriac missionaries expressed the Holy Spirit through Chinese metaphors of breath and wind With a fresh English translation of the full Tang Jingjiao corpus some never before translated with such nuance you explore a rich constructive theology of creation shaped by interreligious dialogue and scientific insight Blending theology Daoism and Quantum Field Theory the book introduces Embodied Critical Realism as a bold new method for theology science religion dialogue Read it and rethink Chinese theology for the third millennium Linguistic Descriptions of the Greek New Testament Stanley E.

Porter,2023-08-10 Stanley E Porter provides descriptions of various important topics in Greek linguistics from a Systemic Functional Linguistics SFL perspective an approach that has been foundational to Porter s long and influential career in the field of New Testament Greek Deep insights into Porter s understanding of SFL are displayed throughout based either upon how he positions SFL in relation to other linguistic models or how he utilizes it to describe topics within Greek and New Testament studies Porter reflects on his core approach to the Greek New Testament by exploring subjects such as metaphor rhetoric cognition orality and textuality as well as studies on linguistic schools of thought and traditional grammar Transformed into the Same Image Paul Copan,Michael M. C. Reardon,2024-10-15 Though the doctrine of theosis has been gaining interest among scholars for some time most have focused on Roman Catholic or Orthodox traditions In this constructive account of deification biblical scholars and theologians focus on the work of major Protestant thinkers and Protestant expressions of the doctrine Metaphors of Eucharistic Presence Stephen R. Shaver,2021-12-14 One of the most challenging questions for Christian ecumenical theology is how the relationship between the eucharistic bread and wine and Jesus Christ s body and blood can be appropriately described This book takes a new approach to controverted questions of eucharistic presence by drawing on cognitive linguistics Arguing that human cognition is grounded in sensorimotor experience and that phenomena such as metaphor and conceptual blending are basic building blocks of thought the book proposes that inherited models of eucharistic presence are not necessarily mutually exclusive but can serve as complementary members of a shared ecumenical repertoire The central element of this repertoire is the motif of identity grounded in the Synoptic and Pauline institution narratives The book argues that the statement The eucharistic bread and wine are the body and blood of Christ can be understood both as figurative and as true in the proper sense thus resolving a church dividing dichotomy The identity motif is complemented by four major non scriptural motifs representation change containment and conduit Each motif with its entailments is explored in depth and suggestions for ecumenical reconciliation in both doctrine and practices are offered The book also provides an introduction to cognitive linguistics and offers suggestions for further reading in that field Language, Cognition, and Biblical Exegesis Ronit Nikolsky,István

Czachesz, Frederick S. Tappenden, Tamás Biró,2019-06-13 What role do texts play in religious practice What is the relationship between these texts and cognition Are some texts more successful because they are better adapted to our cognitive structures Why is biblical interpretation necessary and what is the cognitive process behind it This book considers such questions and fills the gap in research on religious texts and narratives in the cognitive science of religion The study of ancient religions and biblical studies are dominated by textual evidence However the cognitive science of religion is lacking significant research on the language and textual interpretation of this literature This book presents a systematic attempt to redefine the interpretation of religious texts in a cognitive framework providing concrete textual analysis on a broad selection of biblical passages It explores the ways that cognitive approaches to language and textual interpretation expand the disciplines of the cognitive science of religion and biblical studies This book brings together methodology from the cognitive sciences linguistics philology biblical studies and religious studies to offer a new perspective for biblical studies and cognitive sciences It presents a renewed vision of textual interpretation one that aligns hermeneutical reflection with our cognitive capacities

Hebrew studies ,2003 Anthropology and Biblical Studies Louise Joy Lawrence,Mario I. Aguilar,2004 Presents the findings of an international research symposium held at St Andrews University Scotland in July 2003 Contributors include both biblical scholars and anthropologists The essays presented variously explore and review interdisciplinary links innovations and developments between anthropology and biblical studies in reference to interpretation of both the OT and NT and pseudepigraphal works Explored are methodological issues the use of anthropological concepts in biblical studies identity purity boundaries virtuoso religion spiritual experience sacred space and more field orientated work of bible translators in different cultures

The Semantics of Glory Marilyn Burton,2017-05-08 Despite its centrality in mainstream linguistics cognitive semantics has only recently begun to establish a foothold in biblical studies largely due to the challenges inherent in applying such a methodology to ancient languages The Semantics of Glory addresses these challenges by offering a new practical model for a cognitive semantic approach to Classical Hebrew demonstrated through an exploration of the Hebrew semantic domain of glory The concept of glory is one of the most significant themes in the Hebrew Bible lying at the heart of God s self disclosure in biblical revelation This study provides the most comprehensive examination of the domain to date mapping out its intricacies and providing a framework for its exegesis

Inner Worlds Albert Kamp,2021-11-22 In the dynamic interchange between authors texts and readers that occurs during the reading process readers are stimulated by the author to create complex inner representations of the reality presented in a text The cognitive linguistic approach outlined in the first part of Inner Worlds offers a set of analytical tools that can be instructively applied to the book of Jonah to examine how the text presents its own reality to the reader Retranslated with an eye to the distinct nuances in the Hebrew the text of Jonah reveals a range of suggestive dynamic patterns that show the irony of Jonah's limited perspectives on his misfortunes compared with the transcendent perspective of a gracious God
