Property, Labour and Legal Regulation Mark Findlay, 2015-10-30 In this revealing comparative study Mark Findlay examines the problematic nexus between undervalued labour and vulnerable migration status in dis embedded markets It highlights the frustrations raised by timeless regulatory failure and the chronic complicity of private property arrangements in delivering unsustainable market engagement Mark Findlay identifies the challenge for normative and functional foundations of equitable governance by repositioning regulatory principle to restore dignity to market relations The accountability of property through wider access and inclusion it is argued grounds commodified occupation as a vitally valuable social bond in which workers are empowered to participate rather than suffer exploitation The comparative analysis of the EU and ASEAN regulatory contexts reveals that it is not simply more regulatory activity but rather its reversion from market interests to human values which will advance sustainability Property Labour and Legal Regulation offers an insightful critical analysis of crucial contemporary issues facing social administrators lawyers and policy makers working in the fields of migration labour law and regulation Its broad disciplinary coverage lends itself to students of law and regulation who will benefit from this unique evaluation of private property labour relations and migration exclusivity
