Publisher Natural Resource Accounting and Economic Development Charles Perrings, Jeffrey R. Vincent, 2003 In this important book some of the world's leading scholars in environmental economics explore the theoretical and empirical problems to be solved if policymakers are to develop accounts to capture the sustainability of economic development. The development indicators that have been used over the last half century and more GDP and GNP fail to record the change in the value of a nation's natural or environmental capital. The contributions to this volume consider why this is so and what is required of genuine sustainability measures. They include both theoretical papers on the identification of sustainability measures in optimising and non-optimising economies and empirical applications of the theory of green accounting to different sectors in developing countries. The extensive introduction surveys the state of the art on natural resource accounting for economic development. The book makes a substantial contribution to the development of an important field of environmental economics. It should be read by all environment and development economists and policymakers with a particular interest in natural resource accounting, sustainability and development.

Marriages and Families Karen Secombe, Rebecca L. Warner, 2004 In this fresh, more structural alternative to other texts for the marriage and family course, Secombe and Warner provide a comprehensive look at close relationships and the family in just 15 chapters. Examining close relationships and families by placing them in social context, the authors offer a unique emphasis on the structural and relational aspects of the family with a focus on family resilience. The text weaves together a macro view, social structural analysis of close relationships with the macro and individualist view. The authors demonstrate the interaction of theory and methodology in family studies in Chapter 2 and blend cutting edge research and practical applications throughout. Among the highlights of this first edition are the exceptionally thorough exploration of the topics of singlehood and cohabitation in Chapter 7 and the unique six chapter core 8-13 that focuses on all aspects of parenthood and the challenges and crises that families face today. The authors' emphasis on family resilience and how families can be strengthened is reflected in the Constructing Strong Families boxes that appear throughout the text. These features encourage students to apply groundbreaking research on what makes a family strong to their own families and in the concluding chapter Looking Ahead: Helping Families Flourish which examines the factors that successful families, regardless of ethnicity, culture or social class, consistently exhibit.
