AI in Language Teaching, Learning, and Assessment Pan, Fang, 2024-02-12 The introduction of Artificial Intelligence AI has ignited a fervent academic discourse AI's role is as both a powerful ally and a potential adversary in education. For instance, ChatGPT is a generative AI which mimics human conversation with impressive precision. Its capabilities span the educational spectrum from answering questions and generating essays to composing music and coding. Yet, as with any innovation, its advent has sparked a spirited academic dialogue. AI in Language Teaching, Learning, and Assessment seeks to address these concerns with rigor and thoughtfulness. It explores the undeniable drawbacks of AI in language education and offers strategic insights into their prevention. It scrutinizes the resources and safeguards required to ensure the ethical and secure integration of AI in academic settings. This book lays out the multifaceted benefits of incorporating AI into language teaching, learning, and assessment. Its chapters dissect the transformative impact of AI on pedagogy, teaching materials, assessment methodologies, applied linguistics, and the broader landscape of language education development. This book is a valuable resource for language learners, educators, researchers, and scholars alike. It beckons to those who are keen on exploring and implementing AI in education, as well as AI developers and experts seeking to bridge the chasm between technology and language education.

Teaching Black Speculative Fiction KaaVonia Hinton, Karen Michele Chandler, 2024-03-18. Teaching Black Speculative Fiction: Equity, Justice, and Antiracism, edited by KaaVonia Hinton and Karen Michele Chandler, offers innovative approaches to teaching Black speculative fiction, e.g., science fiction, fantasy, horror, in ways that will inspire middle and high school students to think, talk, and write about issues of equity, justice, and antiracism. The book highlights texts by seminal authors such as Octavia E. Butler and influential and emerging authors including Nnedi Okorafor, Kacen Callender, B.B. Alston, Tomi Adeyemi, and Bethany C. Morrow. Each chapter in Teaching Black Speculative Fiction introduces a Black speculative text and its author, describes how the text engages with issues of equity, justice, and/or antiracism, explains and describes how one theory or approach helps elucidate the key text's concern with equity, justice, and/or antiracism, and offers engaging teaching activities that encourage students to read the focal text, facilitate exploration of the text, and a theoretical lens or critical approach, and that guide students to consider ways to extend the focus on equity, justice, and/or antiracism to action in their own lives and communities.

The Communicator's Guide to Media Law and Ethics Mark Pearson, 2023-11-23. This book offers an introduction to the key legal and ethical topics confronting Australian journalists and strategic communicators, both at home and internationally, and offers a suite of reflective techniques for navigating them. It starts by positioning morals, ethics, and the law in their historical and philosophical frameworks by tracing the evolution of free expression and professional media ethics. Media law and ethics are then contextualized in their modern international human rights framework. Readers are equipped with a skill set for reflecting on the law and ethics of professional media dilemmas, including mindful reflection, the Potter Box journaling concept, mapping, and discussion. Such approaches are then applied to key topic areas including free expression, reputation, confidentiality, privacy, justice, intellectual property, national security, discrimination, and harassment, and conflicted interests. Each is examined in terms of its philosophical underpinnings.

relationship to human rights professional ethical context international examples legal principles key Australian laws legal cases and strategies for applying reflective practice techniques It concludes on a confident note imploring communicators to engage in constructive and mindful strategic communication with the authority and confidence that results from a working knowledge of media law and ethics This handbook is for professional communicators and students in all fields but particularly in journalism public relations corporate communication media relations and marketing
